

Grammar Study Menu 2017-18

Instructions: In order to most effectively study and improve in grammar, please select an option from the list for your method of grammar study. It is expected that you study for 15 minutes each night. The ideas are meant to help you find new ways of studying and will hold you more accountable for your grammar practice. If you think of a strategy of studying and practicing grammar that is not on the list, please share it with me!

Choose one of the following for your study time. Make sure you follow all instructions.

1. On a piece of paper, choose 5 different verbs and make a verb conjugation chart for each one in the present tense. For each verb, write a complete sentence for each verb that is meaningful and true to you. Turn in your paper to Mr. Clark with your name for possible extra credit.	2. On a blank piece of paper (no lines), imagine it's a blank white board and use it to teach a grammar topic of your choice from your current chapter in the textbook. Make sure to include examples and explanations in your own words. Turn in to Mr. Clark for possible extra credit.	3. Create a grammar quiz that focuses on the current grammar topic. The quiz should be challenging and consist of at least 15 questions that require complete sentences for answers. Have a friend/classmate complete it for extra credit. ☺
4. Create a comic strip of at least 7 scenes that show use of our current grammar topics. The speech bubbles should be in Spanish and relate to the lesson theme. You may use a website to create it. Turn in for possible extra credit.	5. Create a poem or song that teaches a grammar topic from our lesson or unit. The poem or song should be at least 5-6 lines in length. It can be in English but if you write it in Spanish, you will receive extra credit. ☺	6. Create a drawing that teaches the grammar topics of our current lesson. It can be done by hand or the computer. The drawing can contain words. It can be a poster that can be hung in the classroom that helps teach the topic to students.
7. Use my.hrw.com and complete a grammar worksheet for our current chapter and lesson. Print out the worksheet and complete it. Turn it in to Mr. Clark for possible extra credit.	8. Go to Twitter and post a tweet of at least 150 characters. The tweet should be in complete sentences in Spanish using our current grammar topic (i.e. tense, adjectives, etc.) Make sure you include @LDMSPANISH (The tweet should have a similar theme to our chapter.)	9. Call the class Google Voicemail (540-458-1872) and leave a message in Spanish using our current grammar topics that relates to our lesson theme. You must speak in complete sentences. The call will ALWAYS go to voicemail and I will check it.
